T. CLIVE DAVIES, NEW PRESIDENT OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

T. Clive Davies, the newly elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association, speaking at the anniversary celebration Thursday night, told the hopes of the association leaders for even a greater scope for the work during the coming year than in the past. In closing his edifying address, Mr. Davies said:

"I appeal to you members on behalf of the officers of the association, for your sympathy and co-operation in the work of this coming year. We ask your assistance in all our departments. In the educational—that the classes may be useful to all who seek to improve their education. In athletics—that they may become more attractive as a recreation and more useful as a means of healthy exercise. In the social and visiting—that our association may become a more ready help to the stranger in his friendlessness, to the sorrowful in his loneliness.

"But do not stop there; we are not Christians or followers of Christ in its true sense as God means it, unless we include the soul with mind and body, in our activity. And we ask for your help therefore in our religious work—that the Bible classes and services may be maintained with vigor and earnestness, and that the work may not all fall upon the shoulders of the few who are responsible for maintaining it. Above all, may God's holy spirit signally bless us this coming year, purging from our lives all that is unworthy; helping our secretaries, Mr. Coleman and Mr. Coats; that in all that is done here we may worthily magnify His Holy Name."

REAL ESTATE

Dealers Look for Good Times Soon.

Passage of Bill Expected to Boom Prices of Lots--Week Was Rather Dull.

Real estate is about to boom, so the earth sellers say. The cause is the passage of the Hawaiian Bill. When the Islands become United States territory in fact, and the anxiety of the transition period is swept away, property owners and the dealers alike predict a boom market. Whether prices will go skyward immediately after the passage of the bill, or take a gradual upward tendency is a question which none can decide.

That there is truth in the supposition of advanced figures, is demonstrated by property owners withdrawing their former offerings to some extent and preferring to retain their ownership until the change of government actually occurs. At that time they expect to enter the market again, placing their figures a notch or two higher.

It is claimed in stock and land brokerage circles that the tendency of the general stock market since the receipt of the news of the passage of the Bill has been upward, and that stockholders are inclined to hang on to their shares with such tenacity that some parcels of land are allowed to be sold in order to furnish ready cash to pay up assessments on sugar stock. But these sales are for the most part confined to small holdings, and do not affect large parcels of land.

These sales are further induced by the fact that the banks are disinclined to extend time on outstanding notes as freely as formerly, and requests from these institutions to take up these notes have compelled many to dispose of their property. The real estate men contend that if stock holders are so anxious to pay up their stock assessments, there must be a feeling on the part of the public that will send figures up.

Building operations continue steady, and the applications are on the increase. Nineteen applications since Monday last were acted upon by the Building Inspector. These were for the greater part for the shambling structures made use of by Chinese and Japanese for stores, in all cases a ready compliance with the new building regulations was noticeable. Two prosecutions in the District Court were the outcome of attempted evasion of the sanitary and building laws, and the offenders fined heavily.

As usual the week's building operations were confined largely to Liliha and King streets, where a determined effort is observed to bring the scattered denizens of old Chinatown back into one central location. Buildings are being strung along Liliha street from King almost to School street, and that thoroughfare is rapidly undergoing changes from a Hawaiian village sleepiness to the hum of busy Celestial life.

In the parlance of the real estate brokers, the week all told has not been exceptionally lively, and could well be termed somewhat dull. A few residences along Artesian street are being erected, but are inexpensive in character.

Among the architects there is no diminution of work and several fine residences are in the initial stages of planning. Business property will undergo some marvellous changes as to the buildings proposed to be erected. One architect intimated that a surprise in this respect would be sprung on the public in a short time. That is affects Fort street frontage is surmised.

Bids for the automobile power house and car-sheds will be opened today at noon by the architects, Ripley & Dickey. The plans call for a model building in all respects especially adapted to the storage of autos and the generation of the power for them.

Artillery Officer Coming.

First Lieutenant Lemming is expected in Honolulu soon and will be attached to I Battery, Sixth Artillery at Camp McKinley. The officer is a recent addition to the Sixth, having been assigned to the regiment while on leave in San Francisco. This is the only vacancy existing at present in the local battalion. Lieut. Flemming is a graduate of West Point, class of '95.

The Government schools throughout the Hawaiian Islands, with the exception of North and South Kona, Hawaii, will close for the summer vacation on Friday, June 27.
